Good Weather Brings Improvement to Track and Racing.

Daydue Wins a Long Delayed Victory and Lothair Scores in Easy Style.

WINDSOR, Ont., August 5.—Harry Payne Whitney's colors were seen in front for the first time at the Devonshire track when his two-year-old filly Bewitch beat a band of maiden two-year-olds in the second race this afternoon. Bewitch made a manaway affair of her race, but at the end had tunaway affair of her race, but at the end had to be shaken up a bit to outstay George J. Long's

There was a decided improvement in racing con-There was a decided improvement in racing conditions, the weather being clear and cool, while the track was in decidedly better order than on the previous days of meeting. The result was better sport and keener contests, and a majority of the races were won by well backed horses. Two handicaps were provided as features, one a dash of three-quarters, and the other a claiming handicap at a mile and a sixteenth.

Purses of $2,000 were added to each of these races.

three-quarters, and the other a claiming handicap at a mile and a sixteenth.

Purses of $2,000 were added to each of these races.

The sprint fell to Daydue, which was saddled by C. Buxton and ridden by his brother M. Buxton. Daydue was restrained in the early running. Bullet Proof and Fitz-Boodle being allowed to race themselves into exhaustion. When Burton called on Daydue in the stretch the latter responded with a rush and at the finish won going away fast.

The claiming handicap was won by Lothair, which came from behind in the stretch and beat old Chap out in easy fashion. Old Chap raced into a long lead in the early running, but when the real action came he began tiring and at the end had to stand a grueling drive to beat Accolerate out by a neck.

The eastern-owned Lady Lillian, heavily backed by her people, beat a band of platers in the third, a claiming race at one mile.

A. Peletiere, the Crescent City horseman, has arranged to ship four of the six horses in his stable to the Jefferson Park course near New Orleans at the conclusion of the present meeting.

Among them will be Cobalt Lass and Star Time. Both of these racers went wrong in their last races.

W. C. Weant has arranged to send his horses from here to Fort Erie. Other horsemen who will ship from here to the Niagara Jockey Club's course are James Arthur, J. H. Louchheim, Stuart Polk, G. R. Bryson and the Lincoln Stable.

Jockey Buxton left tonight for Saratoga, but will return for the opening of the Windsor meeting. Clarence Buxton will rest his horses until the return of racing at Windsor. His plans are to race at all of the fall meetings on the Canadian Racing Associations' tracks and has forwarded applications for stalls at all of them, Buxton is well equipped with riders, his promising apprentice Gantner horsemen have asked Buxton to put a price on his contract on the lad, but as yet Buxton has turned down all offers.

William Snyder, starter Dade's main assistant, leaves for his home at Hematite, Missouri, at the conclusion of the meeting

RIPOSTA WINS DELORIMIER'S FEATURE

MONTREAL. Que., August 5.—After racing Ina Wood into early defeat J. Hoskin's Riposta scored an easy victory over Musito and Stepson in the McGill Purse, which attracted the best field of the day, at Delorimier Park this afternoon. Yukon, Night Thought and Jamima all won with much to spare, but old Altamaha only got up in the closing strides to head Woodpile in the sixth race.

Weather conditions were again faverabe, and attendance showed much improvement over yesterday. While working the horse British Isles after the racing was concluded yesterday the veteran jockey Lee Jackson broke a stirrup leather and was 'unseated. RANDWICK'S RICH RACING VALUES

With the June meeting at the noble Randwick Course of Sydney, N. S. W., the year's racing quota of the Australian Jockey Club closed. The Australian year begins July 1. Racing values at Randwick are high. It had fifteen days in 1920-1921.

During the four meetings ninety-six races were run, with an average per race of about $6,350. The total prizes of the fifteen days were $507. 500: sweepstakes and forfeits, $192,185; grand total, $600,685; daily average, $40,645.66; race average, $6,350.

DAY OF COINCIDENCES IN FAR WEST

At Hastings Park, Vancouver, B. C., July 29, a day of doubles occurred. Jockeys Mulcahy and McCullough each piloted two winners, George M. Van Gordon and Messrs, Headley and Miller each had two winners of their breeding. The sire Uncle had two winners, Choir Master and Mistake, which

IDLE DELL VINDICATES HER WALDEN STAKES FORM IN THE FASTEST MILE OF THE MEETING SO FAR---CROCUS COVERS THREE - QUARTERS IN 1:11 AND EASILY DEFEATS CAREFUL

SARATOGA, N. Y., August 5.—Idle Dell, the speedy daughter of Delhi—Idle Tale, and owned by the Greentree Stable, shared honors with Harry Panye Whitney's Crocus as the outstanding stars of Friday's racing. Both raced impressively and fast and led home high-class opponents. Idle Dell started in the Mechanicsville mile handicap for a purse of $1,200 and had as opponents the vastly improved Devastation and the more mature Bell-solar and Enfilade. The latter pair were the only starters during the afternoon, excepting in the steeplechase, over three years old, an unusual happening. The quartet all had considerable following, most support being awarded Idle Dell and Devastation. Wisdom was correct here, for Idle Dell was rushed into a good lead by the alert Penman immediately after starter Cassidy released the barrier and, keeping the filly going at a fast pace, soon had Enfilade beaten and was prepared for Devastation's challenge. It came about an eighth out, but his move, though a good one, was of no avail, as Idle Dell always had the situation well in control and passed by the finish a comfortable margin in advance. Bellsolar, which could not keep up at the early fast pace, closed a gap in the stretch and headed Enfilade for third place. The mile in 1:36% was by far the best of the current meeting. meeting.

stretch and headed Enfilade for third place. The mile in 1:36% was by far the best of the current meeting.

There was more zest to the racing this afterneon, and corresponding activity on the lawn. The paddock visitors were also more numerous, a general Saratoga racing atmosphere being noted for the first time at this meeting. Tomorrow is expected to bring a big list of visitors from New York and near-by cities and resorts. The present weather conditions are perfect.

A crack band of three-year-old fillies started in the three-quarters sprint, third on the card. It introduced Harry Payne Whitney's Crocus, which was making her debut for the year. It was an auspicious one and instantly gave her rank with the best in the country. Careful ruled favorite over her, but in her running the Whitney star was always her mistress. At that, there were many who were disposed to give Careful equal credit with Crocus, and charged her defeat to Ensor's inability to leave the barrier with the leaders, and for keeping her on a wide course for the entire race, wheteas Crocus was guided the shortest way and saved considerable ground on the turns. Ensor is not the riding star of old, and has added timidity to his other faults. Valley of the Moon and Last Straw were the closest followers of Crocus in the early running, the Rosseter representative giving way on the stretch turn, but Last Straw held on resolutely, and it required Careful's best to succeed in getting up for second place in the last strides. Crocus was under restraint at the finish, as she was throughout the entire race.

The Xalapa Farm's jumping combination. The Trout and Nicklaus, were again the medium for active attention on the part of the speculatively inclined and again was the judgment misplaced, for he failed expectations just when his backers' hopes were highest. A blunder at the last jump when he was about to race into the lead unseated Nicklaus and put him out of the running. The lightly weighted Houdini, skillfully ridden by D. Byers and leading from the sta appeared to be going under a pull a seeming sure winner when he made his blunder to topple his rider. In his previous essay he also lost his rider.

EVIL GOOD TO BUD FISHER.

Bud Fisher's colors were carried to victory in the opener when his Evil showed her heels for the artire five-eighths in the initial dash. She was kept busy all during the last eighth as a result of Early Bird's close proximity to her, but the finish found her well in advance, whereas Citation, coming with a rush right at the end, forced the Whitney filly to do her best to retain second place. Evil was the choice, but only slightly more pre-Evil was the choice, but only slightly more pre-ferred than John E. Madden's Oolong. The latter never threatened despite Sande's hard riding to keep her at her task and she brought up in the rear.

The Xalapa Farm establishment is out of luck, and has been for some time. It added to its store of disappointments this afternoon in the failures of The Trout and Alexander Hamilton, both overwhelming favorites of the odds-on variety. Alexander Hamilton was in with platers in the mile dash and, after leading for three-quarters, gave way in succession to Wapiti and Thimble, the former winning comfortably. Alexander Hamilton managed to retain third place, mainly through the fact that those in back of him were a bad band. Wapiti was entered for $2,700 and was bid to $4,300, at which price Sam Louis became her owner. Sixteen youngsters of the better grade, the largest field that has so far started in any one race here, tried conclusions in the final dash at five-eighths. It included the western stake filly Fair Phantom, stablemate of Miss Joy. The Bast had a wholesome respect for her, more so than the westerners, who thought that the big field and her 125-pound impost would operate against her chaaces. At that, she raced creditably and, with a better beginning, might have triumphed, for she closed a big gap and was going fast and gamely in third place at the finish. The winner turned up in M. L. Schwartz' Toil, which, from a forward beginning, displaced French Furze from the lead in the first quarter, and afterward showed the way to the others. Bigheart was fast for the entire way, and overcame some interference that Toil caused him in passing, but he stood a hard drive in fine style to beat Fair Phantom home. The five-eighths in 59%, marked a capital race on the part of the winner. drive in fine style to beat Fair Phantom home. The five-eighths in 59% marked a capital race on the part of the winner.

Because Morvich, the unbeaten, is to start in his first great stake race tomorrow, the United States Hotel Stakes, at three-quarters, keen interest in the outcome is manifest and it is a topic of animated discussion. The Flying Express. Miss Joy, is named among the announced probable starters, but it is said the stable will save her and rely on Sir Hugh and Pegasus. Because of Miss Joy's great deeds the horse's stable is held in profound respect, the two colts, coupled, having been given first place in some betting odds announced, with Morvich second choice and Kal-Sang third. The entire yearling crop of Edward F. Simms' Nalara Farm, numbering twenty-five head, as well as fifteen horses in training, will be sold at auction here on the evening of August 19.

Al Jolson, who is here on a brief visit, contemplates making additions to his stable by the purchase of some of the yearlings which will go under the hammer next week.

After having Pluribus almost ready for racing, trainer Shannon was chagrined to note that the highly regarded colt had developed a splint, making it necessary to let up in his training.

R. A. Smith had intended going to Buffalo, when advised last night that his horses had been deatined, but succeeded in getting in touch with the authorities and effected their release under $10,000 bond. The horses were started toward Saratoga this afternoon and will reach here tomorrow.

AUSTRALASIAN CHAMPIONS

Gloaming and Eurythmic Getting Ready to Decide Supremacy at Randwick.

SYDNEY, N. S. W., July 1.—The New Zealand champion middle distance horse Gloaming is again at Randwick to meet the best on the mainland, including Eurythmic, and is in especially good condition. So is Eurythmic.

Gloaming has wan each of his last seventoon dition. So is Eurythmic.

Gloaming has won each of his last seventeen races in which he has competed, thereby beating Carbine's sequence of sixteen, and for thirty-one firsts and three seconds he has put together $113.-515. The only time in his career he missed a place was when he fell in the North Island Challenge Stakes at Wellington. His Sydney record is four wins and a second, one of his wins being at Rosehill. R. J. Mason, his trainer, still thinks Gloaming would have beaten Poirtel in the Australian Jockey Club Spring Stakes if a little more use had been made of him just after entering the straight. Opinions naturally differ on that point, though it looked as if Gloaming could have got farther away from Poitrel before commencing the final eighth.

final eighth. Gloaming has done nearly all his racing at short distances this year, but as he won at a mile and a half in Auckland, he will manage to get that far at Randwick. It is cartain he will take no end of beating up to a mile and a quarter, and at that distance he is expected to beat Eurythmic, good borse as the latter has proved himself. At a mile and a half the expert preference is for Eurythmic

TRAINER W. H. MANSUR'S DEATH

LONDON, England, July 22.—W. H. Mansur, the well known ex-trainer, died at Newmarket yesterday, aged 85. Few turfmen had had a more varied experience. After an apprenticeship he went to Cairo to take charge of the breeding and racing studs of Ismail Pacha, and from there he migrated to Russia, where he trained for the imperial government. In 1870 Mansur returned to England and started training at Newmarket. One year Mansur turned out 134 winners. He went in for buying and exporting horses on a big scale, and at one time had a paddock and stables in Buenos Ayres.

One of Mansur's sons, George, went to America with the Duke of Beaufort's Strathrose in 1894, for the World's Fair Derby, in which he ran last. Young Mansur also trained The Panther, which ran so ingloriously in the Epsom Derby of 1919.

TRAINER KARRICK'S NEW HORSES

Although still suffering from neuritis to no small extent, trainer W. H. Karrick of the W. R. Coe stable is still able to attend to his duties with the assistance of his son, Kenneth, who looked after the entire outfit while his father was totally incapacitated. The Coe establishment, with close to twenty-five horses in active training, has been increased by the arrival of nineteen yearlings, which were bred at their owner's Shothers Farm at Coly, Wyo.

Next to the Last Day Devoted to Claiming Races.

Kuklux Victorious in the Feature Race of the Afternoon-Sea Tale's Steeplechase.

HAMILTON, Ont., August 5.—It was another ordinary card that was offered on the Hamilton Jockey Club course this afternoon, the program being given over for the most part to races under claiming conditions. A fairly speedy band of sprinters faced the starter in the fifth race and it resulted in a victory for C. W. Hall's Kuklux. The winner was ridden by Romanelli and his skill was mainly responsible for the gelding's victory. The battle for the place honors produced a spectacular struggle and Phantom Fair managed to outstay the fast finishing Sugarmint by a short margin of inches. Inna Frank was installed a topheavy choice, but Thurber's ride was a rather weak one and, despite the fact that she raced in blinkers, Ima lost sufficient ground on the stretch turn to destroy her chance.

J. W. Pangle graduated a maiden from the ranks this afternoon when he saddled Cubanita. She was returned first by a wide margin, and was teasiest winner of the day. Oriental Park was second, with Eastward Princess third.

The dally steeplechase race was taken by C. K. Harrisen, Jr.'s Sen Tale, from Nonus, with McCorburn third. The winner withstood repeated challenges from Nonus, and drew away at the end.

IN EARLY DAYS AT SARATOGA

When Falsetto Came East from Kentucky and Vanquished the Mighty Spendthrift.

Since Saratoga holds the center of the racing stage through each month of August, with practically all the really good horses of the country in pleasing clashing, it is but natural that interesting reminiscences having to do with memorable racing there in the past should crep up now and them.

esting reminiscences having to do with memorable racing there in the past should crop up now and then.

To go back to 1879 is traveling quite a way, yet in that year a couple of races took place there which fairly convulsed the racing world. The late James R. Keene then possessed a magnificent three-year-old in Australian's chestnut son. Spendthrift. Eastern opinion was solidly based on the conviction that he was in effect an invincible. His first race that year almest resulted in a riot at Jereme Park, following the running of the Withers Stakes. For this George Lorillard's fine Leamington colt Harold was a 2 to 5 favorite, and when he was left at the post wrath in abundance was engendered. Then when near the finish jockey George Evans plainly eased up on Spendthrift, to let his stablemate Dan Sparling win, there was more fuel on the fire of trackside indignation, and a stormy scene followed that long was talked about. There was no just basis for it, for it was Keene's privilege to win with either of his two starters. In those days horses were not coupled in the betting as now, and it was alleged that the stable money was on Dan Sparling, at 5 to 1 and better, while Spendthrift was second choice in the betting at 3 to 1. After that Spendthrift went on, and in succession won the Belment Stakes at Jerome Park, Lorillard Stakes at the same track and the Jersey Derby at Monmouth Park, defeating such stars of the time as Harold, Monitor, Magnetism, Report and others with the case of an all-conqueror. He was indeed a delightful young horse. But there was a better one in the land, though not many knew it, or would have believed it, anyhow.

Spendthrift was taken to Saratoga, and there also J. W. Hunt Reynolds of Kentucky had taken his bay Enquirer colt Falsetto. The record showed that this colt had won the Phoenix Hotel Stakes at the Lexington spring meeting, then ran second to Lord Murphy in the Kentucky Derby, and afterward would her Clark Stakes at two miles.

Neat record, but not gaudy, said such eastern opinion opinion as was thought worth while to express. Along with Falsetto Reynolds brought the inimitable Isaac Murphy to ride him. When Travers Stakes day arrived Spendthrift was a topheavy favorite, selling in one auction pool for $1,600 to $500 for Falsetto, $200 for Harold and $65 for Jericho. Wherefore there was wailing, even stupe-faction, when Falsetto not only won by two lengths, but won in a fashion that showed he was beyond the shadow of a doubt the master of Spendthrift. This he confirmed a few weeks later over that same track in the Kenner Stakes at two miles, when he defeated Spendthrift as easily as before, along with Jericho, Monitor and Harold.

Pierre Lorillard gave Hunt Reynolds $20,000 for Falsetto, a great price for those days, and took him over to England. He did not race there. In a great trial he gave Parole twenty pounds and a beating, right on the heels of the latter having raised Cain over there the year before. But he fell so lame soon after the trial that the idea of racing him had to be abandoned, and he was brought back to become in time the sire of three Kentucky Derby winners. Spendthrift, too, became a great sire, and of more enduring influence than Falsetto. Man o' War being his great-grandson and a living testimonial to the present standing of his line. Spendthrift also went over to England on a racing venture that came to nothing. venture that came to nothing.
